Henry Getz attended two funerals in Columbiana last Friday; one being that of his comrade, Charles Snyder, of Co. H, 11th O. V. I. The other was that of Mrs. Myrtle Todd.

A few loads of granulated slag are badly needed around the school building. In fact many of the sidewalks about town are in need of some absorbent top dressing. It is clean, and does not stain the floors nor catch in the wheels of the house.

A mining machine was out of commission in the Millville mine a few days the past week, so that the miners were idle. Miners make fairly good wages, but a few days' lay-off now and then places the year's income on a par with the section hands on railroads.

Fred Redinger and Will Rohrer were in East Liverpool Sunday seeing whether the "raging Ohio" is high enough to carry schooners over the bar. They took refreshments along so that they need not return for dinner. The scenery about the Crookery City is quite picturesque at all seasons, and is doubly so if the liquid refreshment is the sort which makes people see double.

The News says: Aside from John W. Post of Salem and Mayor S. W. Crawford of East Liverpool, three other candidates are expected soon to announce their candidacy for county sheriff. These are Wm. Dalrymple of Washingtonville; one of the sons of East Liverpool; and Mayor J. H. Hinchliffe of Lisbon, who will seek the republican nomination. Mayor Crawford is a democratic candidate.

John Exten, a prominent resident of Franklin Square, fell off a fence Friday afternoon and broke his neck. His wife and son, who had been in poor health for several months, it is believed that he suffered a sudden attack of heart trouble while building a fence for a chicken run. Deceased is survived by his widow and one brother, Frank Exten. Funeral services will be held from the church at Washingtonville, Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial in the cemetery at Lisbon had a good trade from Salem and Wellsville during February, according to the following item from there: When Mayor Hinchliffe read his report to city council Monday evening the members of that body said up and took notice. The mayor showed by his report that he had collected the sum of $1,412 in fines during the month of February and $50 in license fees, making a total of $1,462 for the month. These fines were collected in liquor cases, the majority from Salem and the rest from Wellsville.

Samuel Frederick, a lifelong and respected citizen of this community, died at his home on Union street about 5 o'clock Sunday morning, after a somewhat protracted illness with heart and stomach troubles. He was born just east of town March 21, 1841, so that he lacked but 16 days of completing the scriptural age of three score and ten years. Funeral services were conducted from the Lutheran church at 10:30 Tuesday forenoon by the pastor, Rev. C. R. Isley assisted by Rev. M. C. Grimes of the Methodist church, who read the 90th Psalm and part of the 6th chapter of Second Corinthians as scriptural lessons. Appropriate music was rendered by a composite choir from both churches. Mr. Frederick served as school janitor the last six years of his life, and as a mark of respect to his memory there was no school held on the day of his funeral. The pupils and teachers furnished beautiful floral tributes and marched in a body from the school building to the church to attend services. All the seating capacity of the church was taken by relatives, friends and neighbors. The remains were taken to Oakland cemetery where kind hands laid him to rest, relatives acting as pallbearers. Deceased is survived by the widow (nee Greenmeyer), four sons and two daughters, besides two brothers, Joseph and John, and one sister, Washingtonville may have an unenviable reputation along certain lines, yet has never lost its humanity. Our citizens are always ready to lend a helping hand and shed a sympathetic tear for those in trouble and bereavement. And to this end the family of the deceased desire to publicly express their thanks for the acts of kindness shown them during the sickness and since the death of the husband and father. May a kind Providence be their guide "In seasons of distress and grief."
